AIRWAXTEAM

Passionate about skydiving and freeflying, Greg Crozier and Karine Joly decide to start competing in freeflying in 2008 and launch "Airwax Team".

They make their first appearance at the French Championship in 2009 and won. From then on, they increase their skills and begin to fly together in the wind tunnel.

10 years later, in 2018, they are crowned Freefly World Champions.

Both "ambassadors of sport", they multiply promotional operations all over the world, accompanied by Ewan Cowie (photographer of JETMAN & REDbull).

ULTIMATE4D

Greg Crozier and Karine Joly are also carrying the ULTIMATE 4D wind tunnel project, which allows everyone (even with handicaps) to experience a parachute jump without having to jump from an airplane.

Thanks to the technology of the Oculus 3D helmet and the simultaneous flight in the wind tunnel, the sensations are perfectly reproduced! The jumps offered are exceptional as they take place on sites usually inaccessible and include an interaction with the world champions of parachuting.

An experience lived by more than 6000 people since July 2021.
